

For Immediate Release

To: Listings/Editors/Features

Contact: Ellen at Sound Visions Media

soundvisionsmedia@gmail.com

310-487-0048

Prodigious Son: A Memoir of Miracles Reveals the Remarkable Life of A Modern Urban Shaman

How many times can you cheat death on your path to enlightenment?

(Chicago, IL June 1, 2020) Meet Ralph "Corky" Matson, a modern-day urban shaman who consistently beats the odds. In this captivating memoir, Matson leads us through Woodstock, down drug alleys, over mountain ashrams and around gamblers on a never-ending quest for higher consciousness as he struggles with his inner demons and angels. Born to a devoted mother who struggled to protect him from the unjustified hatred of a tyrannical father, Matson grew up in poverty with a negative self-image that haunted him even as he associated with remarkable people such as Ram Dass, Timothy Leary, Rammurti S. Mishra, Swami Rama, Elias DeMohan and Patricia Cota Robles. There is a tangible love felt in these pages, for every character we encounter. Even in his depictions of heartbreak or cruelty, Matson generously renders a world—and a philosophy—of devotion, kindness, and perseverance that is the underlying thread of his life story. His many brushes with death, including accidents, tumors, overdoses and heart failure only confirmed his spiritual beliefs and demonstrated the miraculous power of healing. Journey with him as he not only overcomes the hardships of an uncertain early life, but grieves the loss of two wives to illness and forgives the father who tormented him. On the way to the emergency room, struck down with severe heart failure, his nephew John pleaded with him to write his memoir, telling him "Corky, you cannot die until you have told your story." From that plea this book was born. Edgy, yet inspirational, Prodigious Son: A Memoir of Miracles offers hope and spiritual awakening in the middle of despair. Prodigious Son: A Memoir of Miracles will be released on June 24, 2020 and is available for pre-sales through Amazon (<https://tinyurl.com/prodigioussonbookamazon>) in Paperback: ISBN: 978-1098308872 / $18.99 (US) or eBook: ISBN: 978-1098308889 / $4.99 (US). For more information contact, www.ProdigiousSon.com.

Members of the news media wishing to request additional information about the book or Ralph Matson are kindly asked to contact soundvisionsmedia (@) gmail.com.

Quotes about the book:

"Never have I had the pleasure of reading a memoir so thoughtful in its understanding of humanity, the preservation of memory, and a feeling of optimism that compels you to leave its pages rejuvenated and optimistic about what there is to come." – Sarah Tierney, copy editor

"Prodigious Son" is an honest and insightful look into a life well-lived and filled with colorful tales. – Jack Bornoff, screenwriter

"Prodigious Son reflects hope in the face of catastrophe. Corky Matson is a remarkable person, soul and example of a life well lived."
- Russell Jaffe, MD, Ph.D. CCN